

SERVE & STUDY PROGRAM

The Service

The Serve & Study residential students are generally scheduled in the following departments at the center.

Basic computer for office jobs, Media Work - Social and Offline, Archiving work, Graphic design, Publication, DTP work, Kitchen-based Activity, Temple Activity, Event Coordination, and so on.

These students contribute 30 hours per week, generally broken up into six days.

The Study

"In exchange for the service, the students are offered Vedanta teachings, as well as Sanskrit and Chanting classes during the course. In addition, access to the personal library of Swamiji and Ammaji as well as the audio and video library is made available."

Room and Board

The Serve & Study residential students live in Purna Vidya Foundation, and are provided room and food. The housing consists of a single room which is shared with co-students with an attached bathroom. Meals include healthy vegetarian breakfast, lunch and dinner every day, as well as tea.

A student's note:

"The rare and unique experience for me during my one year residence at Purna Vidya Foundation and Tapasyalayam, which was powerful and personally transforming, was the deep insights I received regarding the 'Sacred Culture' of India and its classical Vedanta teachings".

- Noemi 'Shanti' Herrera, USA.
