

Do you want to be a contributor?

Here is an opportunity!

The Arsha Vidya Research and Publication Trust is a single-source Centre that has taken up the mammoth task of publishing all of Pujya Swamiji's teachings for the benefit of devotees and seekers of Vedanta. These books are personally edited and perused by Pujya Swamiji himself.

The Trust is looking for persons (devotees/disciples) who can and is interested in devoting a couple of hours every day to transcribe Pujya Swamiji's teachings from the audio material. Knowledge of Sanskrit, English and having a computer/laptop is essential.

Mode of work:

Audio files have to be transcribed verbatim in Word format and to be sent as attachments through email to the executive editor of the Publication, within the agreed time frame.

Interested devotees/disciples can call or email (details given below). On hearing from you, the Trust will provide you with the necessary software for transcribing. An informal initial test will be there to assess the transcribing skills.
